Course/Catalog Description:

The development of architecture, painting and sculpture from their origins in Prehistory through the cultures of Ancient Egypt, the Middle East, Greece, and Rome and in Western Europe from the time of Constantine to the end of the Middle Ages.

Learning Objectives and Outcomes:

1. The student will be able to make a formal analysis of a work of art.
2. The student will be able to distinguish between works of major cultures and periods and to recognize representative works of art.
3. Students will be able to relate selected works of each time periods to the historical, philosophical, religious and social milieu.

Course Requirements:

Equipment: Please note that you must use a computer for this course. Mobile devices (phones and tablets) are insufficient for obtaining the materials.

Exams/Quizzes: There are three exams listed on your course outline. You can choose two of the three quizzes to take, or if you can take all three, and I'll drop your lowest grade. It's your choice. However, you must know that there is no flexibility with due dates. There are also no make-up quizzes. There are no exceptions to the no-make-up rule.

Readings: Reading assignments are outlined on this syllabus as embedded links and in each weekly module. Any supplemental material will be added into each weekly module, as well. The readings are all required for class. Each week's material will be posted on Blackboard for a limited time. For your convenience, the modules will be open from Saturday through Friday of the week that they're to be read/watched.

Museum Visit: You are required to attend at least one museum or gallery at least virtually at some point during the semester. Proof of this visit must be evidenced in a post on a Discussion Board for museum visits and extra credit, which I will provide.

Email: You must check your NCC email regularly! Pop it through your preferred email account, if needed, but not receiving your email is unacceptable.

Attendance: Though you will be taking this course online, your work must be done within the time allowed for each unit, as they will not be online all semester. There are no exceptions to this. Again, each week's material will be posted for a limited time.

Incompletes: A grade of Incomplete will only be issued in cases where at least 80 percent of the semester's work has been completed by the student. If an incomplete is appropriate, a contract stipulating deadlines and work to be completed will be drawn up and signed by the student and me in the Art Department.

Withdrawal

The last day for automatic withdrawals changes each semester. Please see the student calendar for that date. After that date your ability to withdraw from this class is at my discretion.

Extra Credit (which can only be given in addition to having a basis of credit):

Extra credit will be given, if you (virtually) attend a gallery or museum off campus and post a link w/a summary of your favorite thing about that visit. Extra credit is also given if you are very active on the discussion boards not just posting your own work but also talking w/one another about each other's posts. Check your email and announcements for opportunities for other types of extra credit available.

Grading:

- | | |
|------------|--|
| 50 percent | Quizzes – two out of three. You will have one week to complete each quiz. Due dates are posted. Late work will not be accepted. There is NO EXCEPTION to this, and there are no makeups. |
| 50 percent | Participation (includes: at least one meaningful post per week for a minimum of ten plus an introductory post and museum visit post, as well as any extra credit done by the course deadline outlined below.) You are also required to check your NCC email account regularly during the semester. |
